

Why Propaganda Works:

Rationalist Explanations and Implications

Anton Sobolev

Fake News: Week 10

Disclaimer: I have a light form of dysgraphia, and my slides usually suffer from various typos and mistakes. Please, accept my apologies in advance.

Roadmap

Fake News

Misinformation

Propaganda

Disinformation

Roadmap

Fake News

Misinformation

Propaganda

Disinformation

Information about the world

Roadmap

Fake News

Misinformation

Propaganda

Disinformation

Information about the world

World we live in

Roadmap

What features of the World make propaganda work?

Fake News

Misinformation

Propaganda

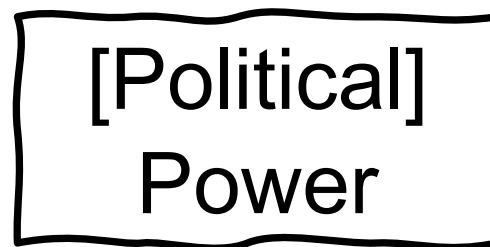

Disinformation

Information about the world

World we live in

Roadmap

[Political] Power

Roadmap

Roadmap

Roadmap

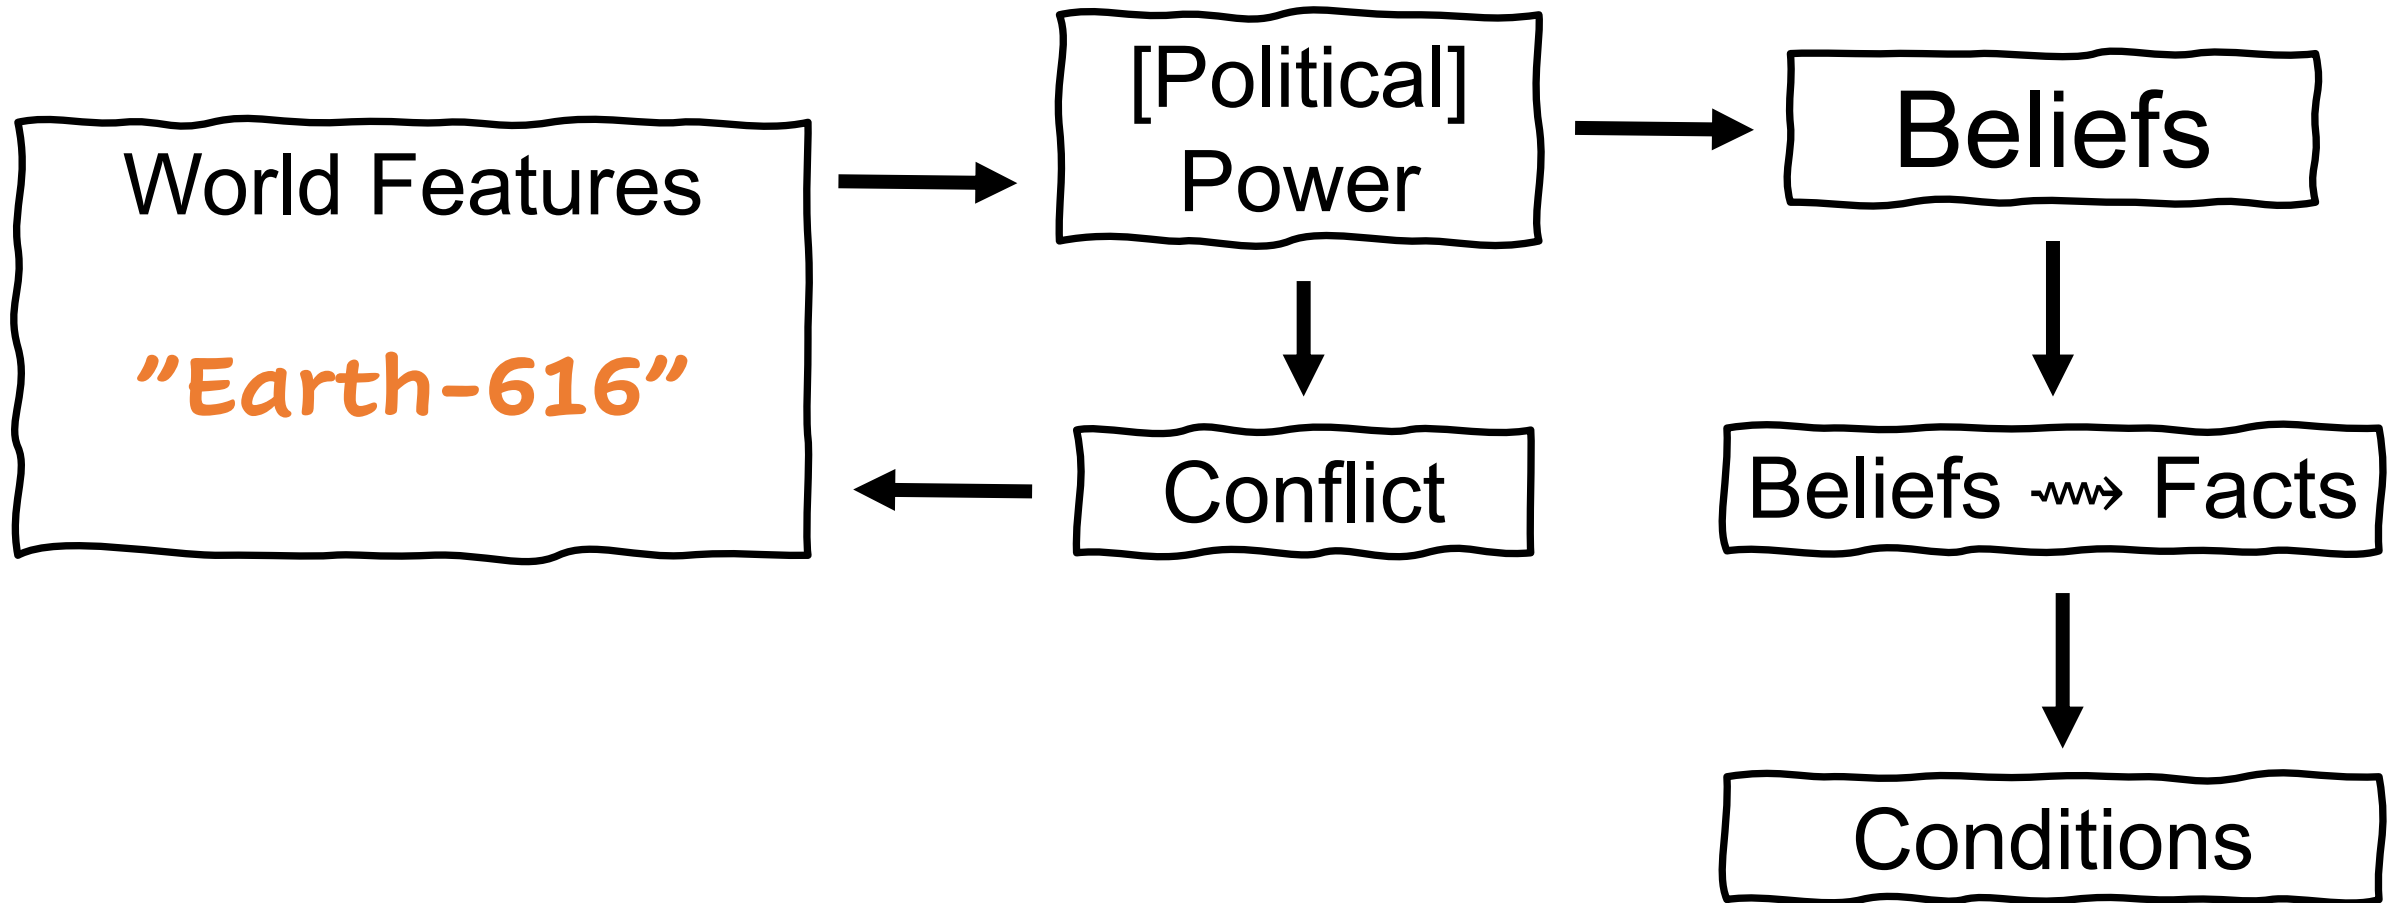

Roadmap

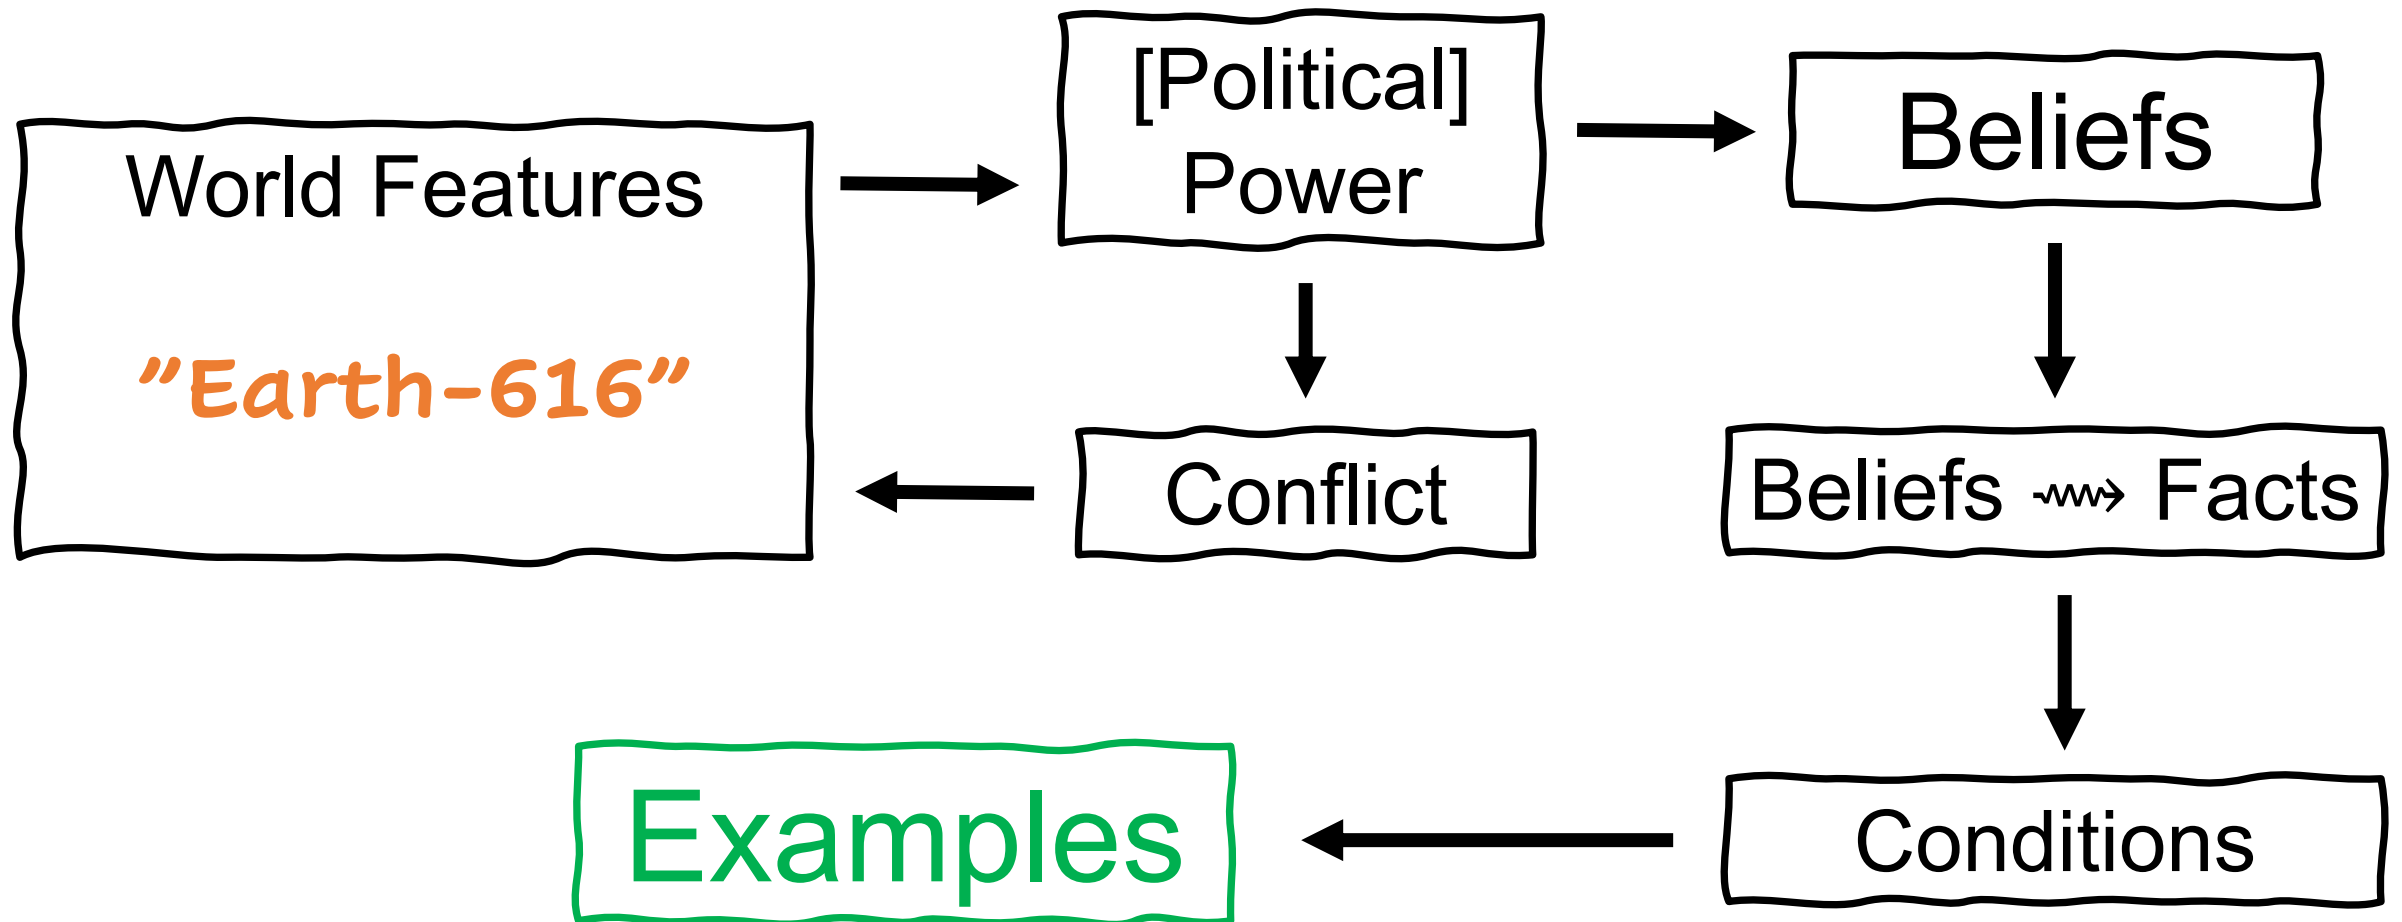

Roadmap

Roadmap

Roadmap

Question: What is political power?

Political power

Ability of A to change the behavior of B. [B would not change this behavior on her own. B would not change her behavior without A].

Simplification: Identify what is important

Understanding Political Power

- ❑ Naïve approach: study states
- ❑ CT approach: study many simplified cases instead

Simplification: Identify what is important

Understanding Political Power

- ❑ Naïve approach: study states
- ❑ CT approach: study many simplified cases instead
- ❑ Foucault: Study prisons and nuthouses!

Michel Foucault

Simplification: Identify what is important

Understanding Political Power

- ❑ Naïve approach: study states
- ❑ CT approach: study many simplified cases instead
- ❑ Foucault: Study prisons and nuthouses!

The most cited computer scientist ever

Anil K. Jain

Michigan State University
Verified email at cse.msu.edu
Cited by 241407

Michel Foucault

Philosophy, Collège de France
Cited by 1209266

Michel Foucault

Conflict: Where should we start?

Start with an obvious example:

❑ Two men fight each other

Look for aspects [features] that seem important:

❑ Feature-1: A physical body tries to damage another physical body

Conflict: Where should we start?

Start with an obvious example:

- ❑ Two men fight each other

Look for aspects [features] that seem important:

- ❑ Feature-1: A physical body tries to damage another physical body

Can we use this features to “identify” conflict in more “primitive” cases?

Conflict: Where should we start?

Start with an obvious example:

- ❑ Two men fight each other

Look for aspects [features] that seem important:

- ❑ Feature-1: A physical body tries to damage another physical body

Can we use this features to “identify” conflict in more “primitive” cases?

Conflict: Where should we start?

→ Observed physical damage is not a necessary condition for the presence/absence of conflict

Conjecture-1:

□ Sufficient condition for conflict:
Threat of violence

Feature-2:

Man-1 tries to prevent Man-2 from a specific behavior

Conflict: Where should we start?

→ Observed physical damage is not a necessary condition for the presence/absence of conflict

Conjecture-1:

□ Sufficient condition for conflict:
Threat of violence

Feature-2:

Man-1 tries to prevent Man-2 from a specific behavior

Are Feature-1 and Feature-2 equally important?

Feature-2 [Prevent behavior]

Why would Wolf-1 want to prevent Wolf-2 from crossing his territory?

Conjecture-2:

- ☐ Control over resources
- ☐ Resources for biological survival

Counterfactuals:

What if the Wolf-1 abstains?

Wolf-1 dies, Wolf-2 survives

What if resources were unlimited?

Both survive, no need to fight for resources

Feature-2 [Prevent behavior]

Why would Wolf-1 want to prevent Wolf-2 from crossing his territory?

Conjecture-2:

- ☐ Control over resources
- ☐ Resources for biological survival

Counterfactuals:

What if the Wolf-1 abstains?

Wolf-1 dies, Wolf-2 survives

What if resources were unlimited?

Both survive, no need to fight for resources

Two necessary conditions for the conflict to exist

1. Living Beings exist [Life]
2. Sources are scarce

The very first conflict

Protein – simplest form of life

- ❑ Takes simple chemical elements
- ❑ Builds its own copy [Needs energy!]

Protein-1

Protein-2

The very first conflict

Protein – simplest form of life

- ❑ Takes simple chemical elements
- ❑ Builds its own copy [Needs energy!]

Working definition

- ❑ Conflict – a situation where two or more parties claim control over the same scarce resource

Conflict over
energy
resources

Protein-2

The very first conflict

Protein – simplest form of life

- ❑ Takes simple chemical elements
- ❑ Builds its own copy [Needs energy!]

Working definition

- ❑ Conflict – a situation where two or more parties claim control over the same scarce resource

Obvious examples

Drunk men in bar fight for the last beer

Medieval knights fight for princess' "heart"

US and China fight for Taiwan

Two robots fight for the only power outlet

Conflict over
energy
resources

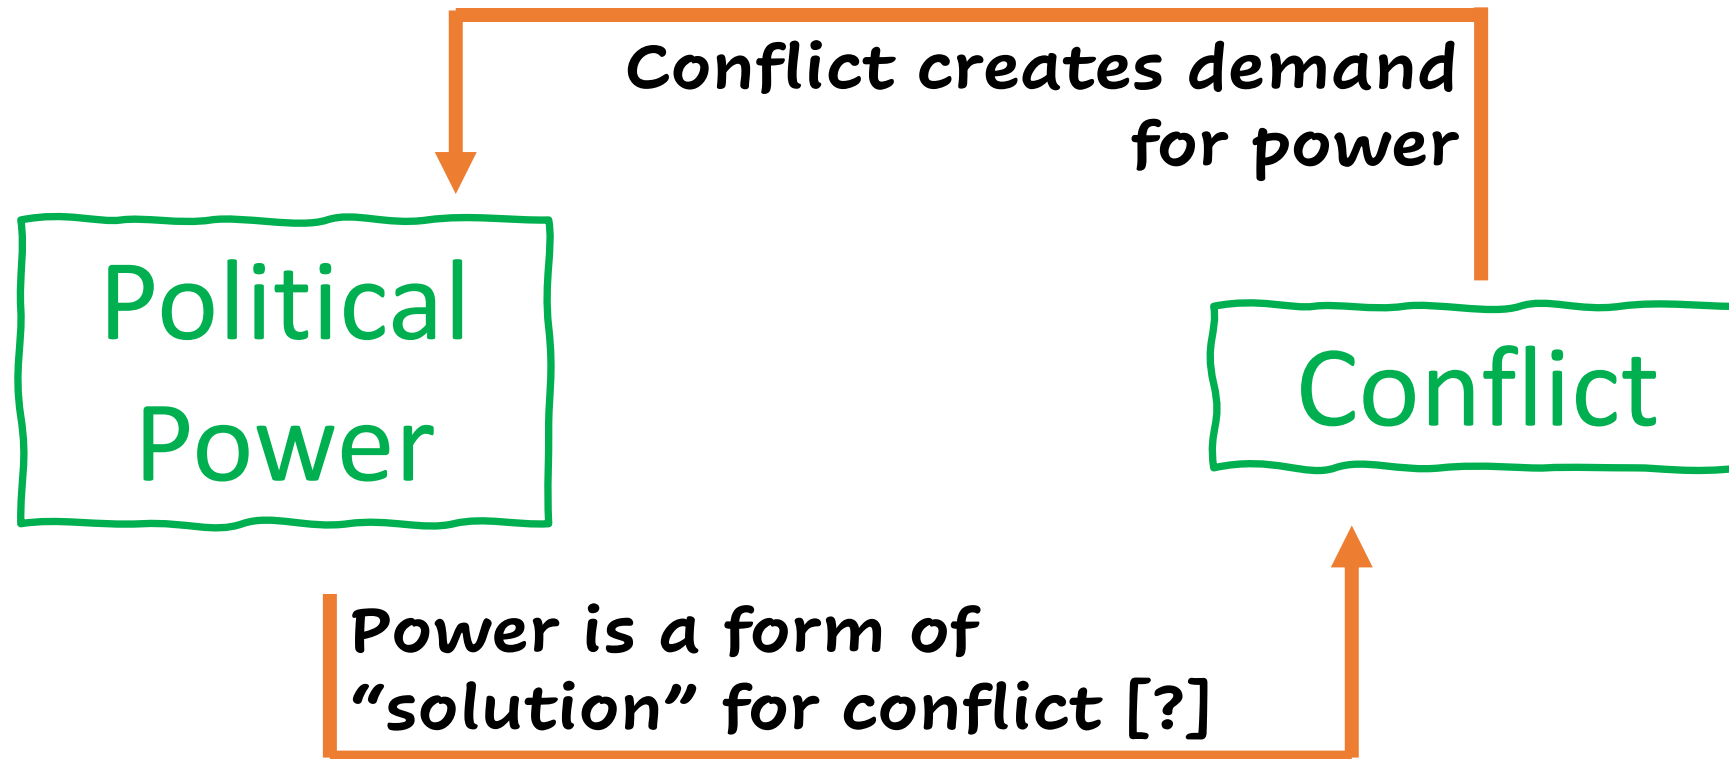

Protein-2

Defining “Political Power”: An Update

Recall definition of political:

- Political power – an ability of A to change the behavior of B. [B would not change this behavior on her own. B would not change his behavior without A].

Forms of Conflict

Actualized conflict -- actors actively use scarce resources in attempt to coerce others to follow their command

- ❑ Actors devote [destroy] part of their resources to coercion
- ❑ Attempt: to be an active part of the conflict you do not need to have a political power over others

→ The conflict itself is a problem [RESOURCES DESTROYED
GUARANTEE OF SUCCESS?]

Forms of Conflict

Actualized conflict -- actors actively use scarce resources in attempt to coerce others to follow their command

- ❑ Actors devote [destroy] part of their resources to coercion
- ❑ Attempt: to be an active part of the conflict you do not need to have a political power over others

→ The conflict itself is a problem [RESOURCES DESTROYED
GUARANTEE OF SUCCESS?]

Latent conflict -- one part dominates the others due to its advantage in political power

- ❑ [Presumably] resources are not destroyed → “solution”
- ❑ Political power of one toward the rest is a requirement

Forms of Conflict

Actualized conflict -- actors actively use scarce resources in attempt to coerce others to follow their command

- ❑ Actors devote [destroy] part of their resources to coercion
- ❑ Attempt: to be an active part of the conflict you do not need to have a political power over others

→ The conflict itself is a problem [RESOURCES DESTROYED
GUARANTEE OF SUCCESS?]

Latent conflict -- one part dominates the others due to its advantage in political power

- ❑ [Presumably] resources are not destroyed → “solution”
- ❑ Political power of one toward the rest is a requirement

Conflicts are fluid: $A \rightarrow L \rightarrow A \rightarrow L$

Latent conflict

A dominates the others due to A's advantage in political power

→ A has excessive resources to coerce others to follow her commands in case they decide to refuse her lead

Latent conflict

A dominates the others due to A's advantage in political power

→ A has excessive resources to coerce others to follow her commands in case they decide to refuse her lead

Tricky!

You can exercise power even when
you cannot de-facto physically
coerce others

Latent conflict

A dominates the others due to A's advantage in political power

→ A has excessive resources to coerce others to follow her commands in case they decide to refuse her lead

Tricky!

The logo for the TV series Game of Thrones, featuring the words "GAME OF" and "THRONES" in a serif font, with the Iron Throne icon replacing the letter 'O' in "OF". The text is enclosed in a hand-drawn, irregular grey border.

GAME OF THRONES

You can exercise power even when
you cannot de-facto physically
coerce others

GoT-1: Power resides where men believe it resides

Tyrion: "The king, the priest, the rich man who lives and who dies? Who will the swordsman obey? All depends on the man with the sword. That piece of steel is the power of life and death"

Varys: "Yet if it is the swordsmen who rule us in truth, why do we pretend our kings hold the power? Why should a strong man with a sword ever obey a child king like Joffrey, or a wine-sodden oaf like his father?"

Some tell us that all power comes from the gods. Others say it derives from law.
Power resides where men believe it resides.

GoT-1: Power resides where men believe it resides

What can we learn from this dialogue?

- ☐ Tyrion's "Power belongs to Swordsman"
- ☐ Varys' upside-down perspective:
 - ☐ It is not about Swordsman!

GoT-1: Power resides where men believe it resides

What can we learn from this dialogue?

- ❑ Tyrion's "Power belongs to Swordsman"
- ❑ Varys' upside-down perspective:
 - ❑ It is not about Swordsman!

→ Why would Strongman
follow others' commands?

GoT-1: Power resides where men believe it resides

What can we learn from this dialogue?

- ❑ Tyrion's "Power belongs to Swordsman"
- ❑ Varys' upside-down perspective:
 - ❑ It is not about Swordsman!

Why would Strongman
follow others' commands?

Strongman's potential motives:

- ❑ Richman: Money [= life resources → survival]
 - ❑ Priest: Fear of hell [hope for afterlife]
- Can they coerce Swordsman if he refuses?

GoT-1: Power resides where men believe it resides

What can we learn from this dialogue?

- ❑ Tyrion's "Power belongs to Swordsman"
- ❑ Varys' upside-down perspective:
 - ❑ It is not about Swordsman!

Why would Strongman
follow others' commands?

Strongman's potential motives:

- ❑ Richman: Money [= life resources → survival]
 - ❑ Priest: Fear of hell [hope for afterlife]
- Can they coerce Swordsman if he refuses?

NO

But Richman and Priest still exercises power over Strongman

GoT-1: Power resides where
men believe it resides

Richman commands

Why would Strongman obey Richman?

- ❑ Strongman's initial beliefs:
 - ❑ "I will die without Richman's resources"
- ❑ Richman persuades Strongman:
 - ❑ "You will die without me"

GoT-1: Power resides where
men believe it resides

Richman commands

Why would Strongman obey Richman?

- ❑ Strongman's initial beliefs:
 - ❑ "I will die without Richman's resources"
- ❑ Richman persuades Strongman:
 - ❑ "You will die without me"

Definition of Power, update-2

it is not about your de-facto ability to coerce others. It is about beliefs of others and your ability to shape them.

GoT-1: Power resides where
men believe it resides

King commands

Why would Strongman obey King?

- ❑ Tyrion's answer is redundant
 - ❑ Why would the other swordsmen have the true power?

Reasons discussed before

- ❑ Money
- ❑ Religious fear

Varys "Then these other swordsmen have the true power. Or do they?"

Tyrion "Because these child kings and drunken oafs can call other strong men, with other swords."

GoT-1: Power resides where
men believe it resides

King commands

Tradition-based legitimacy

- ❑ “My GF followed King’s GF.
My F followed King’s F.
I’m following King.”

GoT-1: Power resides where
men believe it resides

King commands

Tradition-based legitimacy

- ❑ “My GF followed King’s GF.
My F followed King’s F.
I’m following King.”

Why it works

- ❑ Uncertainty about the world’s
‘rules’ for successful survival
- ❑ Decision-making requires
energy

GoT-1: Power resides where
men believe it resides

King commands

Tradition-based legitimacy

- ❑ “My GF followed King’s GF.
My F followed King’s F.
I’m following King.”

Why it works

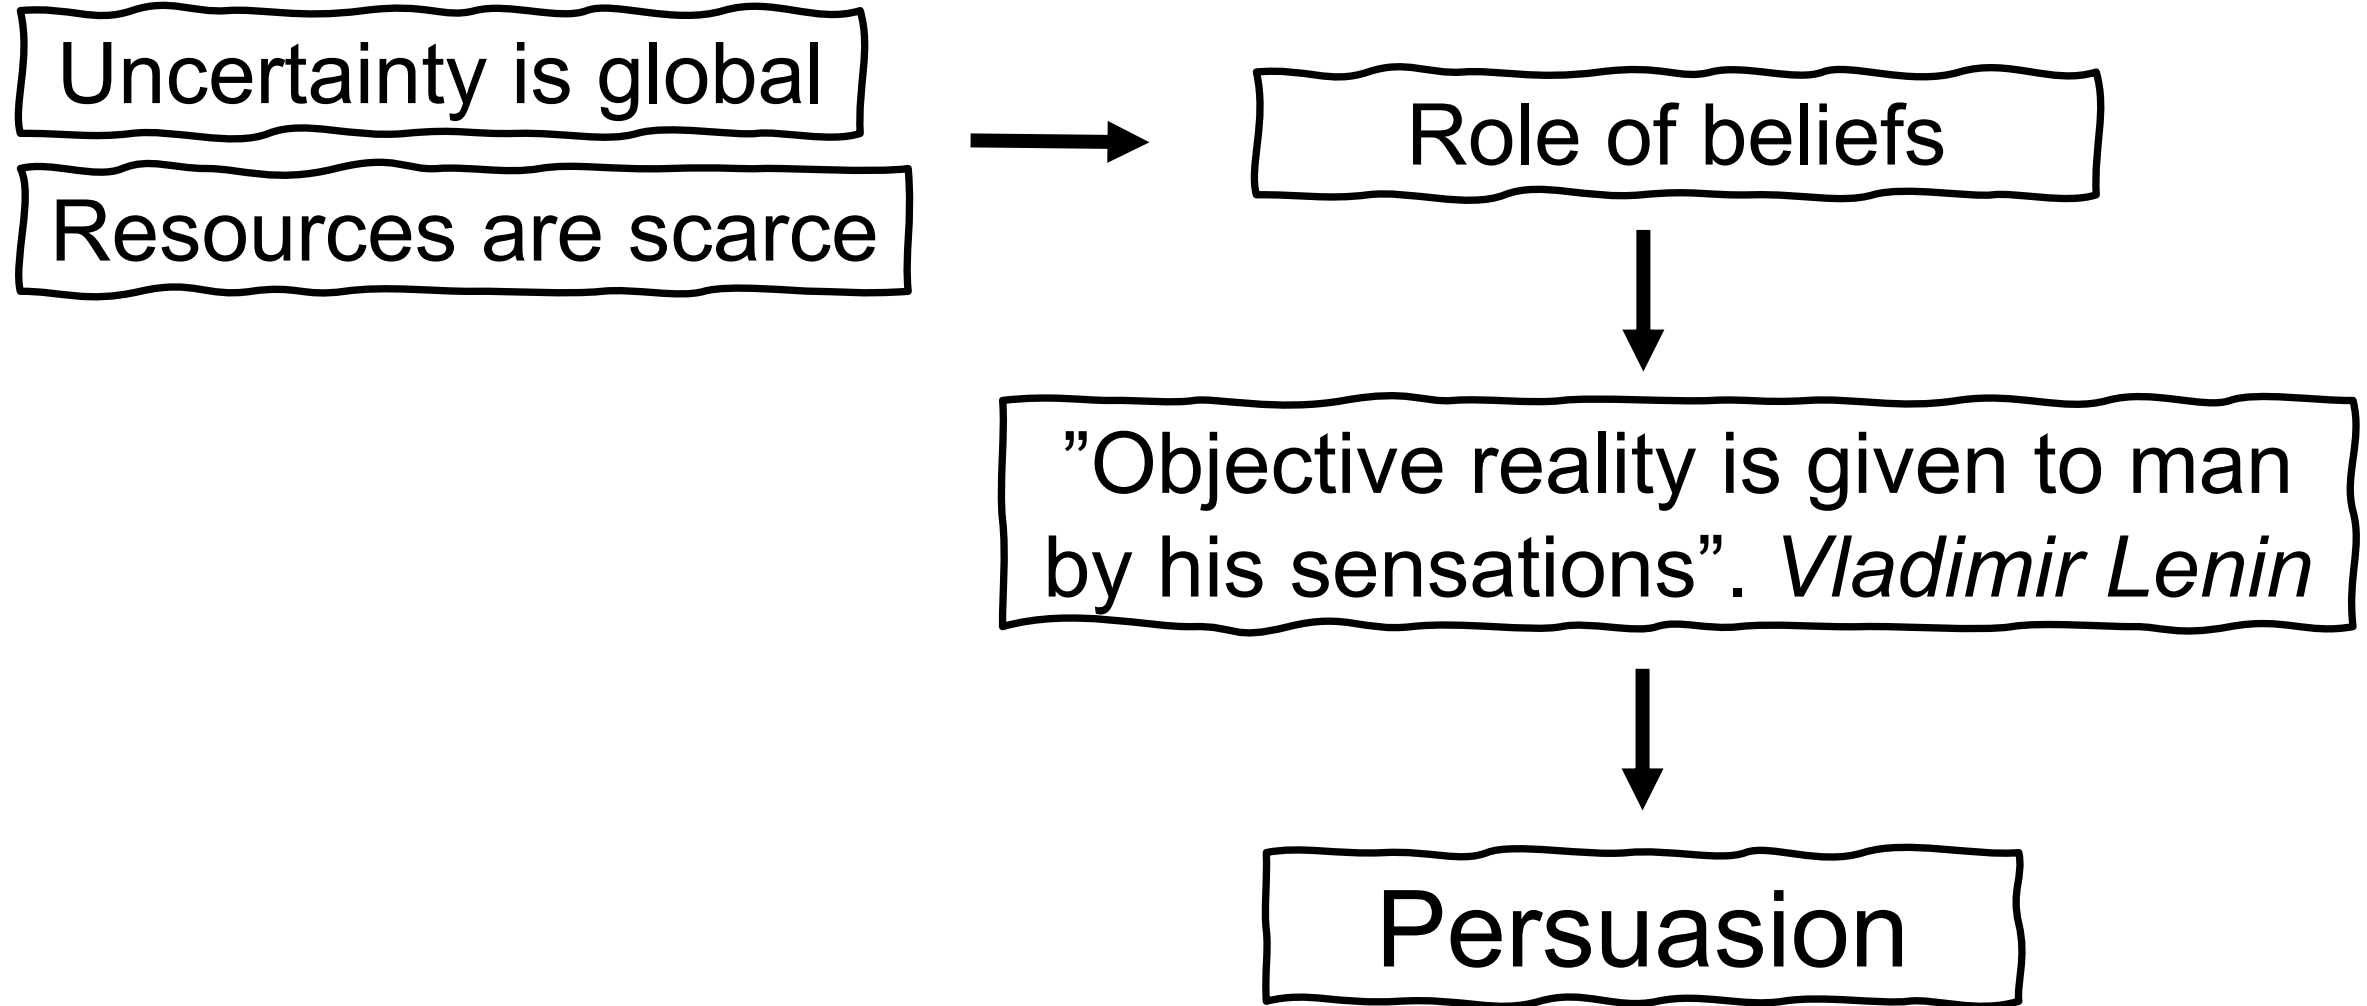

- ❑ Uncertainty about the world’s
‘rules’ for successful survival
- ❑ Decision-making requires
energy

Rents from status-quo

- ❑ “I enjoy privileges I have. No guarantee I keep them if someone challenges status-quo”

Moving forward

Conditions: Private Information

Russian trolls' attacks

- ☐ Discussion of economic performance (-)
- ☐ Discussions of War in Ukraine (+)

Questions?